

YOUR OXBRIDGE JOURNEY

What are they looking for...?

My qualities

- I have good exam results
- I am an original thinker
- I have genuine enthusiasm and interest in my subject
- I can work on my own and be independent
- I enjoy extra-curricular activities on top of my busy schedule
- I enjoy deadlines and work well under pressure

Things to consider:

- I get to spend time studying something I love
- I get to talk about it with someone else who loves the subject
- I get to meet other interesting people who share my enthusiasm, all from completely different walks of life

Oxbridge Coordinators match me to a mentor

Mentoring begins...

I will meet with my mentor on a weekly basis

I will have extra reading/articles suggested, but it's up to me to do the work

I can discuss, challenge and engage with these materials and my mentor to help develop my learning mind-set

I might be given unseen material which I have to react to under time pressure

I might be asked some interview-style questions

I will learn to value how I use my knowledge when faced with a difficult question, not just what's the answer – spoon feeding is not cool at Oxbridge
